

---

Environmental and Toxic Tort Litigation

Representing insurance carriers and self-insured companiesOur environmental and toxic tort litigation team represents insurance carriers and self-insured companies in connection with claims and lawsuits for exposure to toxic substances.Years of experienceKSLN has been heavily involved in the defense of environmental, toxic tort and mass tort cases for many years, including the development of national defense strategies in its role as National and Regional Coordinating Counsel. In that role, our attorneys have assisted in developing medical defenses, product testing reports, coordinated discovery responses, document disclosures, preparation of experts and litigation management databases.

Mass tortsKSLN has successfully defended many of the traditional defendants involved in asbestos litigation and other environmental and "mass tort" actions involving mold, lead paint and RSI, giving us the knowledge and experience to educate and successfully defend clients who are starting out in the toxic tort area.

Matters we have handled include:

- Environmental Liability Issues
- Toxic Tort Coverage Issues
- Landfill Cases
- Asbestos Cases
- Silica Cases
- Mold Cases
- Lead Paint Cases
- Carbon Monoxide Cases
- Welding Rod Cases
- Hearing Loss Cases
- Long-Term Exposure Claims

Visit New York Asbestos Defense Litigation to see some of the commentary that our firm regularly provides to this publication.

Attorneys:

- James S. Nowak
- Thomas J. Cannavo