

---

Medical Malpractice Defense

We defend professionals who entrust us with their future. Not only are the monetary costs high when a professional is accused of malpractice, but the emotional costs and threat to a professional's career can be even more devastating. At KSLN we are aware of these potentially devastating issues when defending professionals who entrust us with their future. KSLN attorneys are determined to win your case. The attorneys at KSLN who handle medical malpractice matters have the insight, experience and determination to understand the high stakes involved in these cases. That's why they are determined to win your case, and not just opt for settlement. Attorneys with experience and compassion. Several KSLN attorneys have focused a significant portion of their practice in the defense of healthcare professionals. As a result, they are cognizant of the emotional turmoil that is wrought when a person's career is in potential jeopardy. They have seen the kind of turmoil that extends not just to their clients, but to their families, as well. And it is for these reasons that KSLN is dedicated to vigorously defending those who entrust us with their lives. Our clients. KSLN represents hospitals and healthcare professionals, including physicians, dentists, podiatrists, chiropractors, physicians' assistants, nurses and physical therapists in actions involving allegations of medical malpractice. We are able to represent physicians in investigations brought by the Office of Professional Misconduct of the NYS Department of Health, in contract termination proceedings before HMOs, and in proceedings before the Department of Education. Handling cases from start to finish. The experience and compassion of KSLN attorneys make them uniquely positioned to handle cases on behalf of healthcare professionals from start to finish.

Attorneys:

- Judith Treger Shelton
- Thomas E. Liptak
- Brian A. MacDonald
- Nelson E. Schule Jr.
- Thomas J. Cannavo
- Rodger P. Doyle Jr.